JEFFREY,
Jeanette

JEFFREY, Jeanette is eligible to stand for election as a resident of the Shire of Pingelly.

My name is Jeanette Jeffrey and I have proudly called Pingelly home for 23 years. Together with my late husband Ian, I ran the Exchange Tavern from 2002, a place where community and ideas came together. Having raised two children in Pingelly and supported the Primary School, I am passionate about children's education and encouraging families to invest in and grow our town. I helped restore the Pingelly Railway Station and now serve as Chair of the Pingelly Museum, preserving our history and heritage. I believe in celebrating the past while planning for the future. I consider myself humble, decisive, a good listener, and committed to resolving issues with respect and integrity. As a councillor, I plan to act rather than just plan to plan.

Additional Information

My name is Jeanette Christine May Jeffrey and I have proudly called Pingelly home for the past 23 years. In 2002, together with my late husband Ian, I purchased the Exchange Tavern, a place that became more than just a watering hole it was a hub for connection, conversation, and community. It truly lived up to its name as the perfect place to Exchange ideas, stories, and friendships.

After raising two of our children here in Pingelly and supporting the Pingelly Primary School over many years, I have developed a strong passion for children's education. I believe that a thriving school is at the heart of a strong community, and that encouraging families to settle in our town is key to growing and sustaining our population.

My community involvement has extended beyond education. I have played a role in saving and restoring the Pingelly Railway Station, a piece of our heritage that reflects the importance of preserving local history.

Today, I continue that work as Chair of the Pingelly Museum at the Town Hall. I enjoy learning about and celebrating the people, stories, and heritage that make Pingelly unique. I am passionate about protecting and restoring our historic buildings, ensuring they are valued and remain a proud part of our town for generations to come.

Those who know me would describe me as humble, decisive, approachable, and a good listener. I value respect and integrity, and I like to work toward resolving issues in a fair and thoughtful way. I believe good leadership is about more than making plans, it is about turning those plans into real action that benefits the whole community.

As a councillor, I want to continue serving Pingelly with the same dedication I have shown in my community work. My focus will be on listening to residents, strengthening opportunities for families and children, supporting our local economy, and protecting the history and heritage that make Pingelly special.
