PINGELLY COUNTRY COLLECTIVE#

The annual Pingelly Country Collective was held over the weekend. What a fabulous show we all enjoyed! The weather held off allowing a superb day for fun and activities. This year was the second year of Pingelly holding the Country Collective and we believe each year is only going to get better. Unfortunately due to COVID 19, the Shears were cancelled and the event was on capacity restrictions but all in all, the Collective put on a fantastic show.

The Sheepdog trials joined us again for the second year and did not disappoint. Ten members from community groups were encouraged to participate in the man vs dog challenge to earn some cash for their club, this of course was a belly of laughs. With nine men and one female taking to the ring, they were able to complete the course with 30 seconds to spare. Congratulations to Charissa Parsons on being a human shield and literally putting her body on the line to earn the money for their nominated club.

The Pingelly Country Collective also welcomed the warm addition of the Woodchop this year with 10 events taking place over the day. The first event off the rank was the Novice underhand followed by the "Sam Gardner Memorial". The "Sam Gardner Memorial" was last held in Pingelly over 15 years, it was great to hold it again after so many years. The Juniors followed this event and what a show they put on with kids as young as 11 participating. The crowd gathered to see teams go head to head in the cross cutting saw category which left everyone in awe of how fast the teams of two could cut through a log. Thank you to C.D.A.A and Ed Taylor for organising the Pingelly Woodchop and putting on a fantastic show.

A slice of Vintage attended the Collective with vintage cars, tractors, hand tools and engines all on display for our visitors. What a fantastic collaboration of Aussie nostalgia. The Pingelly Country Collective also had a huge array of stalls this year including community club tents, food vans, Art work, clothing, candles, soaps, woodwork, you name it and we had it. Thank you to everyone who held a stall with us this year, we look forward to seeing you next year.

The day was a hit and wouldn't be possible without the many people behind the scenes ensuring the day works as smoothly as possible. Thanks must go to:

- Rhea Turton and the team at the PRACC- for the endless hours of organising the markets stalls as well as ensuring the venue was in beautiful condition once again.
- Merv Beard and the PTG crew- the team worked extremely hard to mark out all the necessary areas as well as setting up early Saturday morning.
- Keith the maintenance Man- for donating the toilet and shower cubicles for the second year running.
- The volunteers- many hands make light work and Pingelly is grateful to have so many volunteers who are so dedicated to their community.
- AND TO ALL OF YOU- whether it be stall holders, visitors, family, friends or you simply ended up there on a whim. Each and every single person added so much value to this event and we can't wait to see what the next year holds.

If you would like to be involved next year or wish to keep up to date on the 2023 Pingelly Country Collective. Please email ellen.cook@pingelly.wa.gov.au to express your interest.

The Shire of Pingelly is pleased to introduce Zoe who has taken on the role of Executive Management of Corporate Services. Zoe has worked in Local Government for the last 8.5 years in Northam and is a country enthusiast. Zoe enjoys the country life and currently lives on a 115 acre farm in Dale with her partner, 10 dogs, sheep, geese, alpaca and partridge. Although born in Yorkshire, Zoe came to Australia in 1992, and has loved being here ever since. Zoe is thoroughly looking forward to being part of the Shire family and working with the community here.

The Shire is enthused to have Zoe on board as she will a very valuable member to add to our already incredible Shire team.
